

For Immediate Release

Patrick Knowles Designs is thrilled to showcase a stunning new project, III Amigos. Delivering to a proud owner in 2021, III Amigos is already setting the new bar for what a sport fishing yacht can truly be.

Along with Patrick Knowles Designs (PKD), Michael Rybovich & Sons (MR&S), and the owner's captain Jody Whitworth - along with teams from Metrica (Germany), Poseidon Marine Electronics and Ward's Marine Power Management System - all brought in a spectrum of experience and unsurpassed knowledge to the project, culminating in a striking vessel that garners attention on the water or at port.

III Amigos's length of 94' (28.6M) and beam of 22' allot ample space for design features more akin to that of a luxury megayacht, however her function and performance proves she is unmistakably a fish fighter and contender against all residents of the sea.

Patrick Knowles, owner of Patrick Knowles Designs commented, "Any preconceived images you conjure in your mind of a sportfishing yacht's aesthetics and design will indeed be defied when you view III Amigos."

The vessel has a full beam master cabin, a portside cabin and a starboard twin cabin all with ensuite heads, plus an ample amount of personalization for a unique and very specific owner throughout.

Among her special features: a low profile soffit dubbed the 'laser soffit' emanating a crisp, even flow of indirect lighting, tongue & groove overhead planks, Azul Bahia stone hand selected in Italy, wood plank decks and a clever dinette arrangement with the fit and finish inspired by the cockpit of one of the owners custom Ferraris, replete with details the likes of 2 in-wall glove boxes.

"I have had the pleasure of working with this owner on previous projects and therefore I was able to appease his personality with customized details like the one-of-a-kind PKD designed barstools with genuine Florida alligator hide, a dinette inspired by the fit and finish of a Ferrari cabin and all the galley equipment necessities - the owner happens to be a chef," said Knowles.

"Using the owner's own brand benchmark of contrast with his desire for a yacht that felt like 'one with the water', we created an impressive blend of color, depth and texture that truly culminated in a strikingly gorgeous vessel that still remains true to the fish fighter she is meant to be"
